DALLAS GREEN

Executive Vice-President and General Manager

When he arrived at Wrigley Field in the autumn of 1981, Dallas Green didn't promise Cub fans a rose garden...not even a pennant contender in 1982. But he did expect that little extra. From everyone.

"I'm no Messiah," he told those who saw him at his first Chicago press conference, "but I'll guarantee no one will outwork us. When I hire someone he better work at it or he'll hear from me."

Baseball did hear from Dallas Green and the Chicago Cubs in 1982. Despite a slow start, despite a 13-game losing streak in June, the Cubs played over .500 baseball (52-50) from June 14 on. In fact, since 1945 only the 1972 Cub team had a better record after August 1 than the 1982 Cubs (34-24). From August 1 through October 3 the Cubs were 26-18 against contending National League teams and had the second best NL record over this period behind the San Francisco Giants.

Looking to 1983, Green expects more of the same. In a few words, he has put a "great expectations" stamp on the '83 Cubs.

"We have great expectations of improving once again," Green predicted in an enthusiastic but realistic approach to the season. "We showed a definite improvement in our work and attitude in 1982. There was a new push toward winning.

"The players now have a feel and direction of where we want to go as a team and that alone should only help us improve on the field in 1983. You look at the kids we've got coming in who should be ready to accept responsibility and add in the improvement of our veteran players and I look for us to work our way up the ladder."

Leadership is what Dallas Green is all about. During his 27 years in professional baseball the "Silver Fox" has consistently shown signs of this quality. In fact, he practically explored the Philadelphia Phillies organization from top to bottom, learning a little bit at each stop. Ultimately, it culminated in his managing a World Championship team—the 1980 Phillies.

Actually, Green's baseball career began on the pitching mound. He played 5½ years in the Phillies farm system beginning in 1955, then spent six years (1960-64 and 1967) with the parent team. In between there were short coffee stops with the Washington Senators (1965) and New York Mets (1966). He retired in 1967 after pitching in eight games with the Phillies. His final major league career record was 20-22 despite a fastball that was compared to some of the hardest-throwing pitchers of his era.

After his playing career ended in 1967, Green served as the Reading, PA (Eastern League) player-pitching coach in the Phils' farm system the remainder of that season. In 1968 he managed Huron, SD (Northern League) and the following year piloted Pulaski, VA. Then he became the assistant to Phils general manager Paul Owens, the club's director of minor leagues, in 1970. From there he moved quickly to the top of that department when Owens was elevated to the director of personnel in June of 1972.

Green held that position until August 31, 1979 when he replaced Danny Ozark as Phillies manager and finished with a 19-11 record the remainder of the season. That "interim" position soon became permanent...and very successful. In his first full season at the helm in 1980, Green finished with a 91-71 mark, good enough to win the NL Eastern Division. Next it was on the League Championship Series and victory over Houston...and then came the dramatic World Series triumph over the Kansas City Royals in six games. That accomplishment made him only the fourth rookie big league manager to win a World Series, the others being Bucky Harris (1924 Washington Senators), Eddie Dyer (1946 St. Louis Cardinals) and Ralph Houk (1961 New York Yankees).

Green was born August 4, 1934 in Newport, Delaware and attended the University of Delaware, where he received a Bachelor's degree in 1981. He first signed with the Phillies in 1955 after his junior year at Delaware and reported to Reidsville, NC.

Three years later, in 1958, he married the former Sylvia Taylor. They have four children—Dana, John, Kim and Douglas. The Greens still own a 30-acre farm in West Grove, PA but maintain a full-time residence Winnetka, IL.

Dallas' hobbies include all sports and listening to country and western music.

WRIGLEY FIELD—HOME OF THE CUBS

In a time when modernization is prevalent in all aspects of society, Wrigley Field has remained untarnished by the pervading force of technology. Although improvements have been made to the facility in recent years, the aura of over a half a century of baseball history can still be felt at Wrigley Field. It is one of the few remaining parks in the major leagues that was designed for the sole purpose of playing baseball.

Wrigley Field has been the site of history making events of the past; heroes played here and their feats became legend. After all, here is where Babe Ruth made his famous gesture toward the bleachers before slamming a homer, where the Cub's famed "Murders' Row" of Rogers Hornsby, Hank Wilson, Kiki Cuyler, Riggs Stephenson and Charlie Grimm pounded opposing pitchers, and where Grover Cleveland Alexander, Dizzy Dean, Claude Passeau, Charley Root, Larry French and Bill Lee toed the pitching rubber.

The Cubs christened the playing field that is now known as Wrigley Field on April 20, 1916, defeating Cincinnati 7-6 in 11 innings. In 1926 the field was officially named Wrigley Field in honor of William Wrigley, Jr. Originally called Cubs Park, the field and stadium have undergone expansion over the years, increasing seating capacity from 14,000 to 37,272 with the addition of a double deck and improved bleacher areas.

Over the last two decades, many improvements have been made to the stadium, increasing comfort and convenience for spectators. The seats in the lower grandstand down both foul lines were turned-in so fans sitting down the lines could see home plate; the upper deck was completely restructured (in a four-year project that began in winter of 1967-68 and was completed in the winter of 1970-71); plastic, self-rising contour seats were installed in the lower deck reserved seating area, replacing folding chairs. The most recent project took place during the winter of 1981-82 when new office space was added and the old offices were refurbished, and in 1983 when a new ticket office was built.

Wrigley Field stands apart from other ball parks in that it is the only baseball field in major league baseball that does not utilize artificial lighting. There are no night games at Wrigley Field. Another tradition that has remained is the flying of a flag bearing a "W" or an "L" atop the scorebord after a game to inform passersby of the outcome of the day's contest. A blue flag with a white "W" indicates a win while a flag with a blue "L" indicates a loss. To inform night travelers of the results, a new innovation was added in 1978. A blue light atop the scoreboard signals victory and a white light indicates defeat.

The Flags of Wrigley Field Tell a Story

At all Cubs home games Old Glory flies from the centerfield masthead, highest point in the park. The flags of the 12 National League cities, eight states, and Quebec fly over the main gate.

Before and during each game, 12 pennants, one for each National League Club, flies from the yardarms in order of the standing of each division on the morning of the game — the first place team in the East division at top left, and the West Division leader at the right.

The Chicago Cubs flag — red and white on a blue background — displays 16 red stars representing the Cubs' 16 National Championships. The two blue stars represent Cubs' two World Championships.

The white flag with #14 which hangs from the leftfield foul pole is in honor of Cubs Hall of Famer Ernie Banks, the first Cub player to have his uniform number retired.

Public Transportation is Easy and Convenient

Located at Clark and Addison Sts., 3500 North, 1000 West, Clark St. buses (No. 22) and Addison buses (No. 152) take you to main gates. CTA Rapid Transit trains ("L" and subway) take you to ¼ block from the ball park (Addison St. station). All northbound and southbound "B" trains on the North-South Rapid Transit route stop at Addison on days of all Cubs home games throughout the season. "A" trains stop an hour before game time.

Ticket Information and Prices

Reserved seat tickets for all games are available by mail. Just send your order to Director of Ticket Services, Wrigley Field, Chicago, IL, 60613. On the morning of each home game there are several thousand general admission grandstand and bleacher seats for which no reservations are needed.

Reserved tickets can also be purchased in advance at the Wrigley Field Ticket Office (Addison and Sheffield). This year the Cubs have a new computerized ticket service, TICKETMASTER, which will handle all telephone sales. This system will allow customers access to the best seat available at the time of purchase. Tickets can also be charged to your MasterCard or Visa credit card by calling TICKETMASTER at (312) 559-1212.

A new ticket price structure is in effect this season. There are four box seat classifications: Club, $8.00; field, $7.50; terrace, $6.50; and upper deck, $6.50. Terrace reserved seats may be purchased for $4.50. General admission seats, available on the day of the game only, are $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for children. Admission to the bleachers is $3.00 for all and is also only available the day of the game.

HIGHLIGHTS OF CUBS HISTORY

The last two years at Wrigley Field has been spent "Building a New Tradition" ushering in a new era under the direction of Andrew J. McKenna, the Cubs' Chief Executive Officer and Chairman of the Board. After a longstanding affair with baseball and the Cubs, the Wrigley family sold the team to the Chicago Tribune Company. William Wrigley, the principal stockholder, passed on controlling interest on June 16, 1981, thus beginning a new chapter in the Chicago Cubs history book.

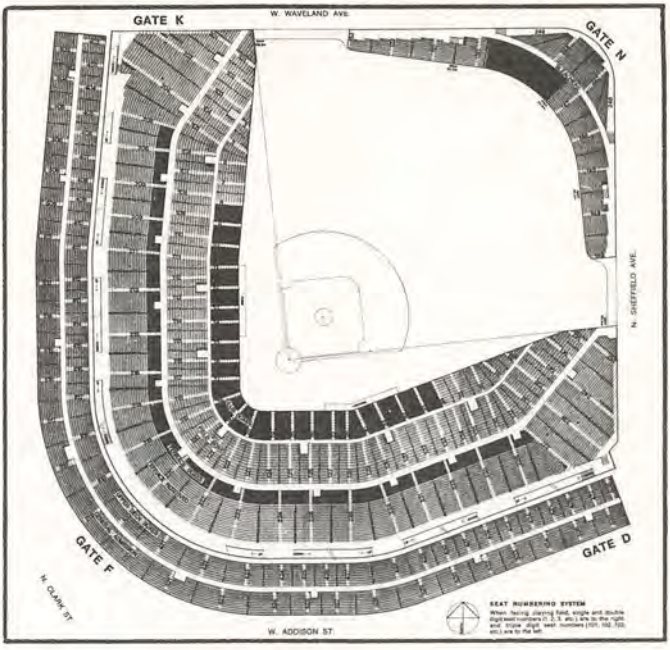
Leadership was needed to lay the foundation for a new tradition. Dallas Green, a great leader and motivator in baseball, was selected as the architect. Green was the primary force behind cultivating the championship Phillies team of 1980.

Although a new era has begun, the tradition and rich heritage of Wrigley Field and Cubs teams of the past will never be forgotten. Of the eight original charter members of the National League, the Cubs are the only team to operate continuously in the same city in which it was franchised.

The creation of the National League in 1876 is largely credited to William A. Hulbert, the first president of the Chicago club. Until his death in 1882, he held the dual role of league president and club president. With the assistance of Albert G. Spalding, the team's first manager, Hulbert drafted the National League constitution and by-laws in 1875. Over 100 years later, these rules have almost remained unchanged.

In 1907 "Cubs" was officially adopted as the nickname of the team. Although nicknames were not official in the early years of the league, the Chicago club was first dubbed the "White Stockings". After 1890, the most popular nicknames for the team were "Colts" and "Orphans". Legend has it that a newspaper writer first used the "Cubs" name on March 27, 1902 while searching for a short nickname to fit a headline.

The Wrigley family's involvement with the Cubs started after the 1915 season when William Wrigley, Jr. and a group of Chicago businessmen purchased the team from the Taft Family of Cincinnati. In 1921, Wrigley became majority stockholder. After his death in 1932, his interest passed to his son Philip K. Wrigley. Upon Philip's death in 1977, principal interest in the ball club was left to William Wrigley. The sale of the club by William Wrigley in 1981 ended the longest continuous operation of a franchise by the same family in the same city in major league baseball history.



NOTES ON CUBS HISTORY

In 107 National League seasons, the Cubs have played 15,619 games and won 8,060 (150 were tied) of them, both lifetime and major league records.

The Cubs, as a team, have hit 100 or more home runs in 30 of their last 33 seasons.

Cubs hit the 8,000th victory mark on May 13, 1982 against the Houston Astros in the Astrodome. Allen Ripley was the winning pitcher for the Cubs that day. This is the most wins ever by a pro franchise in one city.

Ernie Banks became the first Cub player to ever have his uniform #14 retired on August 22, 1982.

On May 25, 1982, against San Diego at Jack Murphy Stadium, Fergie Jenkins became only the 7th man in baseball history to record 3,000 strikeouts.

The all-time major league record for wins in a season and winning percentage in a season is held by the 1906 Cubs, who won 116 and lost only 36, for a .763 percentage.

On September 26, 1908, Cubs pitcher Ed Reulbach pitched both ends of a doubleheader against Brooklyn, shutting them out in both games by scores of 5-0 and 3-0.

The largest crowd ever to see a baseball game at Wrigley Field was 51,556 on June 27, 1930, against Brooklyn. Of that number, 30,476 were Ladies Day guests and 1,332 passholders, so the official paid crowd that day was only 19,748.

On August 17-18, 1982 the Dodgers beat the Cubs 2-1 in a 21-inning game that was the second longest game played in Cubs history, tying a 21-inning affair in 1918 against Philadelphia and falling one shy of the club's all-time record of 22 innings set on May 22, 1927 when the Cubs defeated Bost, 4-3 in Boston. They 21-inning contest also tied a record for most innings played by a Cubs team at home. On July 17, 1918 the Cubs beat Philadelphia 2-1 in a 21-inning game played in Chicago.

The 1935 Cubs set the club record for consecutive wins in a season with 21 in a row.

The 1945 Cubs helped themselves to the National League pennant as they swept 19 doubleheaders and split 10.

The 1959 Cubs hit 182 homers during the season to establish the club record.

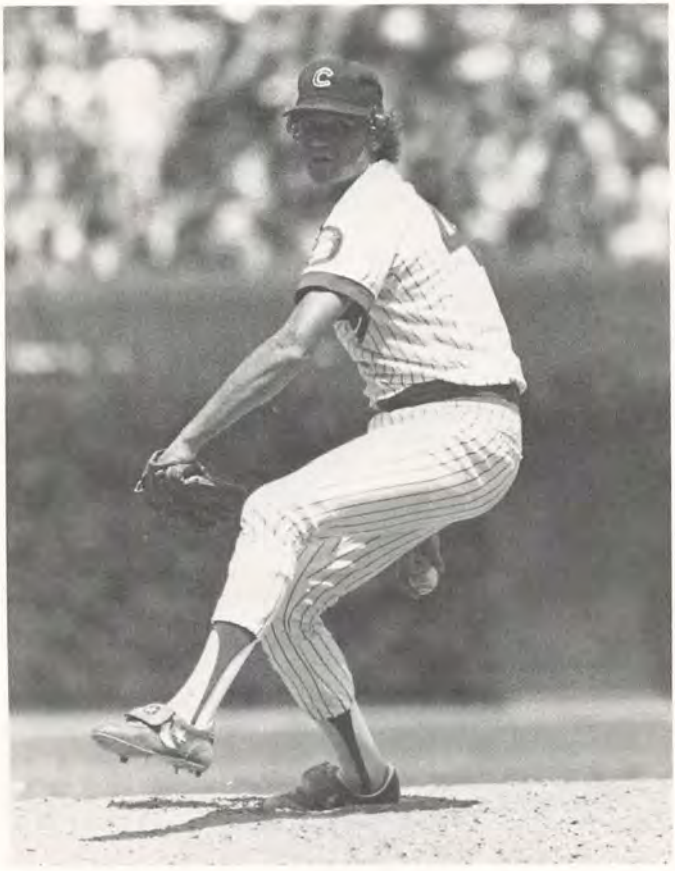
Ernie Banks hit the 500th home run of his career into the leftfield bleachers on May 12, 1970.

The largest Opening Day crowd at Wrigley Field, 45,777, attended the 1978 home opener vs. Pittsburgh on April 4.

The 1969 Cubs drew 1,674,993 fans to Wrigley Field to establish their single season attendance mark.

During the 1982 campaign, the Cubs hit into two triple plays, both against the New York Mets. On August 3, at Wrigley Field, Larry Bowa hit into a triple play that went from SS Bob Bailor to 2B Wally Backman to 1B Dave Kingman. On September 29 in New York, Keith Moreland hit into another triple play, 2B Brian Giles unassisted to 1B Rusty Staub. The Cubs won both games, 5-0 and 4-1, respectively. The last time the Cubs hit into a triple play was on June 4, 1972 en route to a 3-1 victory over the Padres in San Diego.

Dickie Noles



A LOOK BACK AT 1982

In their first season under manager Lee Elia and general manager Dallas Green the 1982 Chicago Cubs did something only one other Cubs team had done since 1945—finish a season with a bang, not a wimper.

From August 1 through October 3, the Cubs played to a 33-24 tune, a far cry from what their loyal fans had been accustomed to in other stretch runs since the conclusion of World War II. In fact, only the 1972 team compiled a better mark (34-23) from the beginning of August to the end of the season.

Not only did the Cubs show tremendous improvement down the home stretch, but they also accomplished this mark against mostly contenders, with a 26-18 record against the best clubs in the NL West and East. Overall, only one other National League team, San Francisco (38-21, .644) and three American League teams, Baltimore (40-23, .635), Milwaukee (37-25, .597) and California (35-25, .583) had better records than the .579 ball played by the Cubs.

Actually, the winning ways of the Cubs began in mid-June...June 14 to be exact. On that date the Cubs broke a 13-game losing streak at Wrigley Field against 1982 Cy Young Award winner Steve Carlton and the Philadelphia Phillies, a 12-11 win that would propel them to a 52-50 finish over the last 102 games. That was accomplished despite an eight-game losing streak in late July.

"If we could've stayed away from that 13-game and 8-game streak," said manager Elia after the season, "there's no telling what we could have accomplished."

In finishing fifth in the NL Eastern Division, a notch ahead of their last place finish in 1981, the Cubs showed talents not displayed at Wrigley Field in decades. The most notable was the club's speed afoot—last season the Cubs stole 132 bases, the most since the 1924 club swipped 137. The 1982 Cubs were only the third Cubs team to steal more than 100 bases since 1924.

Compared to the 1980 team which finished 64-98, the Cubs improved in many categories, scoring more runs and accummulating more hits while holding the opposition to fewer runs and hits. The Cubs record in extra inning games was 5-6 in 1982 compared to 4-12 in 1980; another interesting statistic which showed the club's improvement and competitiveness was their 22-26 record in one-run decisions in 1982. In 1980, with reliever Bruce Sutter in the bullpen, the Cubs were 20-28 in one-run games.

Other comparisions to ponder:

In 1982 the Cubs were 21-36 in night games compared to 17-40 in 1980; in daylight the Cubs were 52-53 last season compared to 47-58 in 1980. And the Cubs' road record improved by eight games over the 1980 team, going 35-46 in '82 against a 27-54 mark posted by the '80 edition.

The 1980 Cubs were shutout 17 times while blanking the opposition on six occasions...last year the Cubs were shutout only eight times while inflicting a shutout on the opposition seven times.

Finally, the Cubs established a team attendance record, playing before 3,076,553 fans. That mark suprassed the previous overall high (home and away games) of 2,786,926 in 1980.

LEE ELIA

Manager

In his first season as a major league manager, Lee Elia accomplished something that only one other Cubs manager in the last 36 seasons had been able to achieve; that is, lead the Cubs to a successful stretch drive.

When Elia brought the Cubs north from spring training he had a roster that had undergone a massive turnover from the season before. By season's end even more changes had been made. It took time for the adjustments to pay dividends and for the youth to mature. Elia learned and adjusted. The players learned and adjusted. When the Cubs turned the corner into the stretch drive on August 1, Elia had a team that proved competitive with the best the National League had to offer.

"It took time for me to learn the players, for the players to learn me," he said. "It also took time for me to learn myself and the players to learn themselves. But once we got going we did pretty well."

From August 1 through the end of the season the Cubs posted a 33-24 record. Only one Cubs team since 1945 had a better post-August 1 record. That team was the 1972 squad which finished with a 34-23 record, one win better than last year's.

From August 1, the Cubs had the second best record in the National League and the fifth best in baseball. Only the Giants (38-21, .644) had a better record than the Cubs in the NL in those torrid final months.

The three American League teams that posted better records down the stretch were the Orioles (40-32, .635), Brewers (37-25, .597) and the Angels (35-25, .583). Of the four teams, two won division titles and two came within an eyelash of winning titles.

Elia's team did not register a majority of its wins against the lower echelon teams, either. From August 1, the Cubs had a 26-18 record against team playing above .500 baseball. They swept the Expos in Montreal in late September, knocking them from the pennant race. The Cubs also took two out of three from the Pirates in Pittsburgh to damage their division hopes. Earlier in the stretch drive, the Cubs swept the Giants.

"We were very satisfied with the club from June 14 (the Cubs posted a 52-50 record from that date on)," Elia said. "We were proud of the way our younger players matured and performed. The biggest reason for our drive from August 1 on was the ability of everyone to contribute. Offensively some players had great seasons but the pitching, especially the bullpen, was for the most part outstanding during the last two months. Plus we got some of the finest seasons out of some of our top players."

All in all, Elia's return to Chicago, where he played for both the Cubs and the White Sox, showed definite signs of promise.

Prior to coming to the Cubs on October 22, 1981 to replace Joe Amalfitano, Elia served as the third base coach for Dallas Green's World Champion Philadelphia Phillies. Elia, a Philadelphia native, coached at the major league level during the 1980 and 1981 seasons. He had managed in the Phillies' farm system since 1975.

In 1975, Elia led Spartanburg, SC (Class A) to the South Atlantic championship. Both his 1978 Reading, PA (Class AA) and 1979 Oklahoma City (Class AAA) teams won their division titles before losing in the playoffs.

As a player he was primarily a reserve shortstop for managers Eddie Stanky and Leo Durocher. With the White Sox in 1966, Elia played 80 games and hit .205 in 195 plate appearances. With the Cubs in 1968, the former University of Delaware football standout made 17 trips to the plate in 15 games, hitting .176. His lifetime major league statistics include three homers, 25 RBI and a .203 average.

Elia had many successful minor seasons before retiring in 1973. In 1965, he belted 29 homers and knocked in 75 runs for Indianapolis of the Pacific Coast League. He began his professional career at Elmira of the New York-Penn League in 1959. His other minor league stops included Williamsport (Eastern League), Chattanooga (Southern League), Buffalo (International League), Arkansas and Tacoma (Pacific Coast) and Syracuse (International) and finally Eugene (Pacific Coast).

Lee was born July 16, 1937 in Philadelphia, PA. He and his wife Penny, along with their daughter Tana, reside in Clearwater, FL. during the off-season.

"Overall, you look at the 1982 season and there was solid progress made," Lee said. "We've progressed nicely in the first year. But there is more work to be done. We have just scratched the surface."

COACHING STAFF

RUBEN AMARO

Ruben Amaro (Mora) was born in Monterrey, Nuevo Leon, Mexico on January 7, 1936. He and his wife Judith have two children, David and Ruben, and reside in Philadelphia, PA. in the off-season.

Amaro will be starting his first season with the Cubs as third base coach but he is no stranger to the coaching lines or to Cubs manager Lee Elia. Amaro was the first base coach for the Philadelphia Phillies in 1980 and 1981, the same seasons that Elia coached third base for the NL East team. Prior to 1980 Amaro spent six years as the Phillies co-ordinator of Latin American scouting. He was in charge of Latin American affairs in 1982 for the Phillies and was based in Philadelphia. During the past winter, he again served as the general manager of the Zulia ball club of the Venezuela League.

Amaro played several infield positions during his minor league and major league career, but primarily he was regarded as a shortstop. He was originally signed by the St. Louis Cardinals in 1954 and played his first year in the majors in 1958 with the Cardinals. Later that year he was traded to the Phillies, where he played from 1960 through the 1965 season. In 1964, while batting a major league career high .264, Amaro also won a Gold Glove for his work at shortstop in 129 games. Ruben later played for the New York Yankees (1966-68) and for the California Angels in 1969, his last year in the big leagues. He retired from the player ranks in the spring of 1972 to join the Phillies as a scout. His lifetime ML batting average is .234.

Amaro, who led the International League shortstops in double plays with 84 while at Buffalo in 1959, managed the Phillies Auburn farm club in the New York-Penn League in 1977.

BILLY CONNORS

William Joseph Connors III was born in Schenectady, NY on November 2, 1941. He is single and resides in St. Petersburg, FL during the off-season.

Last season in his first year as the Cubs' pitching coach, Connors took a staff of mediocre-at-best reputation and turned them into a competitive unit that exceeded the early season prognosis. Compared to the 1980 Cubs, Connors' pitchers won nine more games while allowing less runs, less earned runs, fewer hits and nearly 150 fewer walks. His manuevering of the bullpen helped the Cubs produce the second best record in the National League from August 1 through the end of the season. Baseball experts considered the Cubs' bullpen of Lee Smith, Bill Campbell, Dick Tidrow, Willie Hernandez and Mike Proly among the deepest and most effective in baseball during the latter half of the season.

He began his major league career in 1966 when he pitched in 11 games for the Cubs under manager Leo Durocher. He made brief appearances with the New York Mets during the 1967 and 1968 seasons.

His previous coaching experience includes five years in the Mets organization and three with the Philadelphia Phillies where he served mainly as a minor league pitching instructor. He later joined the Kansas City Royals coaching staff and helped develop the 1980 pitching staff that went to the World Series.

His 2.60 ERA at Tacoma, WA in 1966 was the fourth lowest in the Pacific Coast League that year. Connors attended Syracuse University where in played baseball and basketball. He last played professional baseball in 1970 when he pitched for Pompano Beach of the Florida State League.

DUFFY DYER

Donald Robert (Duffy) Dyer was born in Dayton, OH on August 15, 1945. He is married and resides with his wife Lynn and their four children Cami, Brian, Kevin and Megan in Phoenix, AZ, during the off-season.

Dyer will be in his first season as both a major league coach and a member of the Cubs' organization. Dyer, who will be the Cubs' bullpen coach, spent 14 years in the major leagues, 12 in the National League. The former catcher played in parts of seven seasons with the New York Mets, four with the Pittsburgh Pirates, one with the Montreal Expos and one and a half with the Detroit Tigers. He completed his playing career with the Tigers in 1981.

He compiled a .221 batting average in 720 games including 74 doubles, 11 triples, 30 homers and 173 RBI. He played on three division championship clubs — the 1969 Mets, 1973 Mets and 1975 Pirates. He went to bat once in the 1969 World Series. In 1976 he caught Pirates pitcher John Candelaria's no-hitter. In 1977 he led NL catchers in fielding percentage (.996). He attended Arizona State University and was a catcher on the team that won the 1965 College World Series.

Since completing his playing career in May, 1981, Duffy has worked in the real estate business in Phoenix.

FRED KOENIG

Fred Carl Koenig was born in St. Louis, MO on April 27, 1931. Fred is divorced and has three children, Don, Eric and Michael. Koenig resides in Tulsa, OK in the off-season.

Koenig will be starting his first season with the Cubs and will handle the first base coaching chores. Fred has had previous coaching experience in the big leagues beginning with the California Angels in 1970-71. He assisted St. Louis Cardinals manager Red Schoendienst on the bench in 1976 and served in several different capacities as a coach with the Texas Rangers from 1977 through 1982. He was a first base coach with the Rangers in '77 and '78, moved to third base in 1979 and was the bench coach for managers Pat Corrales and Don Zimmer from 1980 through last season.

In 13 seasons of minor league ball, the former first baseman compiled a lifetime batting mark of .273, including 119 home runs. His minor league career began in 1951 and extended to 1963. In 1954 he led the Eastern League in double plays. His best offensive years were with Paducah of the Kitty League in 1952. (.288, 15 HR, 90 RBI), Allentown of the Eastern League in 1954 (.287, 11 HR, 83 RBI) and York of the Eastern League in 1958 (.299, 9 HR, 58 RBI). Koenig also appeared in nine games as a pitcher in the 1959 and 1960 campaigns.

Koenig has had nine seasons of experience as a manager in the minor leagues. In 1968 he piloted his Quad City club to the first half title of the Midwest League and beat Decatur for the overall championship in the playoffs. The following season at Quad City his club won the first half title. He also has one second place finish and three third place finishes as a manager.

Fred was the director of player development for the St. Louis Cardinals in 1973 and 1974.

JOHN VUKOVICH

John Christopher Vukovich was born in Sacramento, CA on July 31, 1947. He and his wife Bonnie have two children, Vincent and Nicole, and reside in Sicklerville, NJ, in the off-season.

John made his coaching debut in the major leagues last season as the Cubs first base coach. In addition to sharpening the skills of Cubs infielders, "Vuk" had a hand in the Cubs successful season on the basepaths. In 1982, the club stole 132 bases, the most by the Cubs since 1924. In 1983, Vukovich will shift assignments and assist manager Lee Elia in the dugout.

Vukovich played in parts of 10 seasons in the major leagues, completing his career with the Philadelpha Phillies in 1981, the same club which drafted him in 1966. John spent parts of the '70, '71, '76 and '77 seasons with the Phillies. He was also a member of the 1980 World Championship club and the '81 edition, both of which were managed by Dallas Green. Vuk also spent two seasons (1973-74) with the Milwaukee Brewers and the first part of the 1975 season with the Cincinnati Reds. Regarded as a fine defensive thrid baseman who also played several other positions in the infield, including catcher, Vukovich played on two major league clubs which won World Championships and three other big league teams which won division titles. He also was a member of three league champions in the minor leagues (Spartanburg '67; Eugene '72 and Oklahoma City '79).

Vukovich, who was the Reds starting third baseman in 1975, had his best offensive year in 1979 when he batted. 291 in 101 games at Oklahoma City of the American Association. He also hit 12 home runs and drove in 66 runs for the 89ers that season.

PLAYER BIOGRAPHIES

DARRYL BANKS (45) RHP

BANKS, DARRYL DWAYNE—Born 6-12-60, Reno, NV., turns 23, June 12. Bats-R; Throws-R; Ht. 6-2; Wt. 205. Single. How obtained: He was the Cubs top pick in the secondary phase of the 1980 June free agent draft. Major League service: None.

1982 SEASON: Had 13 wins for Southern Division champ Quad City (A)...13 wins were fourth best in the Midwest League...pitched 162.2 innings with six complete games and 3.26 ERA...he pitched a 3-hit, 3-1 victory against the Wisconsin Rapid Twins...combined with teammate Ronald Kaufman to pitch his only shutout of the season on July 23.

IN THE MINORS: Spent 1981 and 1980 seasons with Geneva (A) of the New York-Penn League, where he was 1-5 and 3-4 respectively... in 1981 he tied for the league lead in hit batsmen with six and led the league the previous year with seven.

CLUB EVALUATION: Says Gordon Goldsberry: "Darryl started '82 as a 6th or 7th pitcher at Quad City and became the most consistent and steadiest on that staff by mid-season. Really finished strong...also had a strong showing last fall in the Arizona Instructional League...he relies on command and pitching instincts...does not beat himself...Darryl has gained respect and maturity in the organization."

PERSONAL/MISC: He is single and resides in Reno, NV during the off-season...graduated from Reno High School in 1978 and the College of Southern Idaho in 1980 with an A.A. degree in Business...at the College of Southern Idaho he was 5-1 in 1979 and was named to the National Junior College Athletic Association All-American first team the following year, finishing that season with a 7-1 record...in his junior year at Reno High School he was 6-0 with 0.51 ERA and 56 strikeouts in 41 innings...he also hit .400 that season, leading his team to the Nevada Class AAA state championships...as a senior he once again led Reno to the state title, pitching a 2-0, 3-hitter in the opening game of the state tournament, scoring both runs himself, one on the home run...first drafted by the Pirates in the first round of the 1980 January free agent draft...Darryl is a construction worker during the off-season.

BILL CAMPBELL (39) RHP

CAMPBELL, WILLIAM RICHARD—Born 8-9-48, Highland Park, MI., turns 35, August 9. Bats-R; Throws-R; Ht. 6-4; Wt. 200. Wife's name: Linda. Children: Emily and Marnie. How obtained: Became a member of the Cubs on December 8, 1981 when he was signed following the re-entry draft. Major League service: 9 years, 79 days.

1982 SEASON: Bill was one of the club's most reliable relievers during the second half of his first National League season...from July 16 he appeared in 23 games and pitched 45.1 innings, allowing just nine earned runs (1.79 ERA) and 26 hits while fanning 42...was one of three Cubs pitchers to have more innings pitched than hits allowed (100-89)...his 71 strikeouts ranked second to Lee Smith for Ks by a reliever...finished 22 of his first 27 appearances including one stretch of eight straight...from July 16 to September 3 he made 14 appearances, allowing 3 runs in 29.2 innings pitched (0.91)...longest stint of season came in August 17 21-inning game against the Dodgers when Bill pitched five innings of one-hit shutout relief...on September 11 against the Expos he fanned six batters in a two-hit, four-inning appearance...led Cubs staff in percentage of batters faced/retired (72.4)...tied with Lee Smith for club reliever lead with 31 three-batter innings...singled off Montreal's Scott Sanderson on September 11 for first major league hit.

MAJOR LEAGUES: Bill has a lifetime 63-46 record in the major leagues appearing in 470 games with 110 saves...ranks 14th on the all-time save list behind Jim Brewer and Darold Knowles (112) and Clay Carroll (113)...before signing with the Cubs, Campbell had spent the previous nine years in the American League with Minnesota (1973-76) and Boston (1977-81)...with the Twins in 1976 he posted a 17-5 record and tied an American League record with 167.2 innings pitched by a reliever breaking Eddie Fisher's record of 165 established in 1965 with the Chicago White Sox...he ranked third in the majors with 20 saves...with the Red Sox in 1977 he had a 13-9 record and a 2.96 ERA along with 31 saves...his 31 saves led the league and were five more than American League Cy Young Award winner Sparky Lyle of the New York Yankees...in five seasons with the Red Sox he had 28 wins and 51 saves...in four years with the Twins he had 32 wins and 51 saves...last started a game in 1975 for the Twins...in 1980, Bill underwent extensive rehabilitation to strengthen his right shoulder...appeared in only 23 games that season with a 4-0 record but was able to hold the lead in five of five games and prevented 12 of 17 runners from scoring who were on base when he entered the game...allowed only one home run in 41 innings that season...made one All-Star Game appearance (1977) pitching one inning of hitless ball...won the A.L. Rolaids Relief Award that season for the second straight year...was signed by the Red Sox in 1976 after gaining free agency from the Twins...first player signed in history of re-entry draft, Nov. 6, 1977.

IN THE MINORS: Campbell was signed by Minnesota scout Jesse Flores as a free agent in 1970 after pitching a no-hitter against Flores' semi-pro team...originally he played the outfield and didn't become a full-time pitcher until 1966 while attending Mount San Antonio Junior College in Walnut, CA. he was named to the All-Star teams in each of his three minor league seasons...was "Pitcher of the Year" for Charlotte (AA) of the Southern League in 1972 posting a 13-10 record with a 2.26 ERA...was brought up to the Twins as a reliever midway through the 1973 season.

PERSONAL/MISC: Bill is married to the former Linda Ackert and they reside in Barrington, IL during the off-season...was graduated from Ganesha High School in Pomona, CA in 1966 where he lettered in baseball and basketball...attended Mount San Antonio JC for 1 1/2 years leading his team to the California state baseball championship...served in U.S. army for two years...saw combat duty in Viet Nam as a radio operator...nicknamed "Soup"...hobbies include playing golf and racquetball...very active in community affairs...participated in the Cubs winter caravan the last two winters...was named BoSox Man of the Year 1978.

RON CEY (11) IF

CEY, RONALD CHARLES—Born 2-15-48, Tacoma, WA., turned 35, Feb. 15. Bats-R; Throws-R; Ht. 5-9; Wt. 185. Wife's name: Fran. Children: Daniel Elliott and Amanda. How obtained: Became a Cub on January 20, 1983 when he was acquired from the Los Angeles Dodgers for minor league outfielder Dan Cataline and minor league pitcher Vance Lovelace. Major League service: 10 years, 43 days.

1982 SEASON: Although his batting average was down 10 points from his career average, it was still a typical Ron Cey year in terms of home runs and RBI...discounting the strike-shortened 1981 season, Cey was above the 20-homer mark for the seventh consecutive season with 24 and near the 80-RBI plateau for the ninth year in a row (79)...has been in double figures in home runs the last 10 years...had 45 RBI after the All-Star Break...hit an average of five home runs a month from May through September...had a 16-game hitting streak from June 14-30 (23-for-58, .397) to raise average from .237 to .271...hit .354 against the Mets...had six homers and 17 runs batted in against the Giants...had two 4-RBI games, one against the Giants on April 23 and the other against the Cubs on August 28...had four hits in a game twice, both against the Giants (April 23 and August 13)...missed playing time in September due to a strained muscle in his left leg...collected the 800th RBI of his career on July 16 against the Mets...played 150 games, marking the ninth time he has played in 145 or more games...since becoming a regular he has failed to play 145 games only once and that was in 1981.

MAJOR LEAGUES: Ron left the Dodgers organization holding quite a few team records...he is the all-time Los Angeles Dodger home run leader with 228...had a career-high 30 in 1977, a record for a Los Angeles Dodger third baseman...led Dodgers in home runs in 1975 (25), 1976 (23) and 1981 (13) and tied for the team lead in 1979 (28)...was one of four Dodgers to hit 30 or more home runs in 1977, a major league record...was one of five Dodgers to hit 20 or more homers in 1979, a club record...led N.L. third baseman with 23 homers in 1978...fourth on Dodgers' all-time home run list behind Roy Campanella, Gil Hodges and Duke Snider...LA Dodger record holder with five career grand slam homers...set major league single-month record by driving in 29 runs in April, 1977, holds LA Dodger team record for RBI in a single game (8), set in 1974 against San Diego...led all N.L. third basemen with 84 RBI in 1978...led Dodgers with nine game-winning RBI in 1981...his 110 RBI in 1977 is all-time high for LA Dodger third basemen...the longest hitting streak of his career is 17 games in April, 1977...had nine consecutive hits in a series at San Francisco July 2-3-4, 1977, one short of club record...best start of his career came in 1977 when he batted .425 in April...during the 1980 stretch drive he hit 14 homers and batted in 36 runs from August until the end of the season...named to six consecutive All-Star teams (1974-79)...led club in game-winning hits four consecutive seasons (1974-77)...played a club record 1,481 games at third base for the Dodgers...reached base 11 consecutive times (seven hits, four walks) April 16-17, 1980 against the Padres and Astros, with six RBI...defensively, Cey has also left his mark...he tied a N.L. record for fewest errors in a season by a third baseman with nine in 1979...also set Dodger record for fielding by third baseman with .977 percentage in 1979, bettering the mark of .970 established by Billy Cox in 1952...was selected tri-MVP of the 1981 World Series along with Pedro Guerrero and Steve Yeager after hitting .350 with six RBI, including the game-winner in the decisive sixth game...came back to collect two hits in Game 6 after being struck on the helmet by a Goose Gossage pitch in the eighth inning of Game 5...Cey rejoined the club for N.L. Championship Series with Montreal after having his left forearm broken when struck by a pitch by San Francisco's Tom Griffin on September 9...was in N.L.'s top 10 in slugging percentage (.474) and on-base percentage (.372) when he left the lineup in September...finished with his best batting average in nine seasons (.288).

IN THE MINORS: Helped lead the Albuquerque Dukes managed by Tom Lasorda to a Pacific Coast League championship in 1972—his last season in the minors...batted .329 that season with 23 homers and 103 RBI...led the PCL with 123 RBI at Spokane in 1971...also had 32 homers and batted .328 that season...in his first season of pro ball in 1968 he knocked in 62 runs at Tri-Cities to lead the Northwest League.

PERSONAL/MISC: Ron is married to the former Fran Fishbein, a Chicago native...the couple resides in Woodland Hills, CA during the off-season...nicknamed "The Penguin"...cut a record in 1976 by Long Ball Records...two songs were entitled "Playin' the Third Base Bag" and "One Game at a Time"...served as Southern California Christmas Seals Chairman in 1976...graduated from Mt. Tahoma High School (Tacoma, WA)...lettered in baseball, basketball and football in high school...was a 15th round choice by the New York Mets out of high school but chose to attend Washington State University...also attended Western Washington State College.

FERGIE JENKINS (31) RHP

JENKINS, FERGUSON ARTHUR—Born 12-14-43, Chatham, Ont., Canada, turns 40 on December 13. Bats-R; Throws-R; Ht. 6-5; Wt. 210. Wife's name: Katherine. Children: Kelly, Delores and Kimberly. How obtained: Became a Cub on December 8, 1981 when he was signed following the re-entry draft. Major league service: 17 years, 27 days.

1982 SEASON: One of the baseball's all-time great pitchers, Fergie convinced the critics that he could still produce...had a 14-15 record with a 3.15 ERA to lead the Cubs pitching staff...his record was misleading considering that in 11 of his 15 losses the Cubs scored a total of nine runs...in five of Fergie's 34 starts he allowed four earned runs and in one start he allowed five...in the remaining 28 starts he allowed less than three earned runs...his 3.15 ERA ranked 13th in the National League...became the seventh pitcher in baseball history to strike out 3,000 batters in a career when he fanned San Diego's Garry Templeton on May 25...34 starts, 14 wins, four complete games, 134 strikeouts and 217.1 innings pitched led the staff and were his best personal marks in those departments in three previous seasons with the exception of the strikeout total which was his best in two seasons...his 3.15 ERA was tops among Cubs starters and the lowest ERA for any Cub starter since 1977 when Rick Reuschel posted a 2.79 mark...during the last two months of the season, Jenkins was superb...registered an 8-2 record in his final 12 starts with all victories coming against contenders...defeated the Cardinals, Dodgers and Pirates twice along with the Expos and Giants once down the stretch...beat the Dodgers three times in all...went 6.2 innings on April 5 for 5-0 win in Cubs home opener making his first Wrigley Field appearance since September, 1973...won only two of next 10 decisions despite pitching well...in those eight losses, the Cubs were shutout twice, held to one-run three times...was 3-8 on June 9...was 6-13 on August 4...in those 13 losses the Cubs had been shutout twice and held to one-run six times...pitched first complete game of season on May 20 in Los Angeles when he beat the Dodgers 8-3 and Fernando Valenzuela... struck out season-high eight hitters including Pedro Guerrero and Ron Cey twice to bring career total to 2,999...had another outstanding game against the Dodgers on August 19 when he worked eight innings allowing just four hits in an 8-2 win...had a combined record of 10-5 with an ERA of 2.41 against the World Champion Cardinals, Expos, Dodgers and Pirates...besides beating the Dodgers three times, Fergie knocked off St. Louis and Pittsburgh three times...considered a good hitting pitcher before spending eight seasons in the American League (13 homers, 74 RBI in his first eight National League seasons) Fergie batted only .149 but tied with Randy Martz to lead Cub pitchers with six RBI.

MAJOR LEAGUES: Added the William Harding Achievement Award to his long list of honors this past winter. The award is given annually by the Chicago Chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America...enters the 1983 season with a career record of 278-217...needs 22 victories to reach coveted 300-win level...currently ranks 20th all-time in victories behind Jim Kaat (283) and Tony Mullane and Steve Carlton (285)...has 3,096 strikeouts to rank 7th all-time. Bob Gibson is sixth (3,117), Tom Seaver fifth (3,137), Steve Carlton fourth (3,434), Gaylord Perry third (3,452), Nolan Ryan second (3,494) and Walter Johnson first (3,508)...has started 565 games, 13th on the all-time list...has 48 career shutouts to rank 23rd...has pitched 4,331 to win 100 or more games in both leagues joining Cy Young, Jim Bunning and Gaylord Perry...three weeks after winning his 100th game in the American League during the 1980 season he won the 250th of his career...in his first tour of duty with the Cubs he won 20 or more games in six straight seasons...he has won 20 or more games seven times...only Jim Palmer, among active pitchers, has won 20 or more games eight times...won the Cy Young Award in 1971 with the Cubs, posting a 24-13 record and a 2.77 ERA...was also named The Sporting News National League Pitcher of the Year...in 1974 he was named Comeback Player of the Year when he was 25-12 with Texas...in 1968 he tied a major league record by losing five 1-0 decisions...led the National League in complete games in 1967 (20), 1970 (24) and 1971 (30)...led American League in 1974 (29)...named to the National League All-Star team in 1967, 1971 and 1972...while in the American League he batted twice, going one-for-two against the Twins in 1974...was originally obtained by the Cubs April 21, 1966 from the Philadelphia Phillies along with centerfielder Adolpho Phillips and first baseman John Herrnstein in exchange for pitchers Larry Jackson and Bob Buhl...was traded by the Cubs to Texas on October 25, 1973 for third baseman Bill Madlock and infielder/outfielder Vic Harris...was traded to Boston for outfielder Juan Beniquez and pitchers Steve Barr and Craig Skok on November 19, 1975...was reacquired by Texas for pitcher John Poloni and cash on December 14, 1977...in 1980 he was awarded the Order of Canada, a medal bestowed for outstanding humanitarian achievement.

PRIOR TO THE MAJORS: Fergie compiled a 43-26 record in four minor leagues as a member of the Phillies organization...in 1962 he was 7-2 with Miami (A) of the Florida State League with an ERA of 0.97 striking out 69 batters in 65 innings...while pitching for Chattanooga (AA) of the Southern League in 1964 he was 10-6 and struck out 149 batters in 139 innings...teammate of Cubs executive vice-president and general manager Dallas Green at Little Rock (AAA) in 1964.

PERSONAL/MISC: Fergie is married to the former Ann Katherine Williams and they reside in Blenheim, Ontario during the off-season...graduated from Chatham Vocational High School where he lettered in baseball, basektball and hockey...turned down pro hockey offers for a career in baseball...was signed by the Phillies as a free agent on June 15, 1962...hobbies include hunting, amateur hockey, fishing and working on his farm.

FERGIE EXTENDS PUTOUT MARK

Ferguson Jenkins continued to add to his Major League record of having the most career putouts by a pitcher with 347.

JAY JOHNSTONE (21) OF

JOHNSTONE, JOHN WILLIAM, JR.—Born 11-20-45, Manchester, CT., turns 38, November 20. Bats-L; Throws-R; Ht. 6-1; Wt. 190. Wife's name: Mary Jayne. Children: Mary Jayne Sarah. How obtained: Became a Cub on June 4, 1982 when he was signed as a free agent. Major League service: 14 years, 67 days.

1982 SEASON: Following his release by the Dodgers, Jay signed with the Cubs and provided the team not only with a potent bat and more-than-adequate defensive play in rightfield, but also with his wit and humor...he was used mainly as a pinch-hitter with the Dodgers and was 1-for-13 upon beig released...with the Cubs he hit 10 homers and had 43 RBI in 98 games...his seven game-winning hits ranked fourth on the club..in his first eight starts with the Cubs he responded with four homers and nine RBI...his biggest day with the Cubs came on August 8 when he homered twice and drove in four runs to lead the Cubs to an 8-5 win over the Phillies. Johnstone's homers helped erase Phillie leads of 4-0 and 5-4...on September 13 he was 3-for-4 against the Pirates including two doubles and a two-run homer...he finished the season with 96 career homers...ironically, half of Jay's 10 1982 homers came against two of his former teams, the Phillies (four) and the Dodgers (one).

MAJOR LEAGUES: A veteran of 14 seasons and eight teams, Johnstone has played in both leagues and on two World Championship teams, the 1981 Dodgers and 1978 Yankees...in 1981, he led the Dodgers with 11 pinch hits, including three homers, two coming in back-to-back games against the Reds (May 23-24)...he has nine career pinch-hit homers...considers one of his biggest thrills the pinch homer he hit in Game 4 of the 1981 World Series that brought the Dodgers back from a 6-3 deficit which proved to be one of the turning points in the Series...in 1980 he opened the season as a pinch-hitter and contributed 11 hits before moving into rightfield on a regular basis following Reggie Smith's injury in July...in late September he had six straight hits and was 14-for-21...Jay played out his option with San Diego in 1979 after splitting that season with the Padres and Yankees...he was acquired by the Padres on June 15 for pitcher Dave Wehrmeister...in 1975, he had his best overall season with 15 homers, 59 RBI and a .284 average with the Phillies...set a LCS record when he was 7-for-9 during the 1976 playoffs vs. the Reds...broke into the major leagues with the California Angels in 1966...played five seasons with the Angels before moving to the White Sox (1971-72), Oakland A's (1973), Phillies (1974-78), Yankees (1978-79), Padres (1979), and Dodgers (1980-82)..

PRIOR TO THE MAJORS: Jay signed with the Angels in 1963...played that season with San Jose (California League)...split time during next three seasons with San Jose, El Paso (Texas) and Seattle (Pacific Coast) before surfacing with the Angels for 62 games in 1966...had hit .340 with Seattle before promotion...opened the 1967 season in the major leagues before being sent down to Seattle for final 49 games of season hitting .315...remained in Seattle through half of 1968 season before spending the next five years in the major leagues...in 1973, he opened the season with the Oakland A's but after 23 games was sent to Tucson (Pacific Coast) hitting .349...was signed by the Phillies during the off-season and reported to Toledo (International League) for the opening of the 1974 season.

PERSONAL/MISC: Jay is married to the former Mary Jayne Saunders and the reside in San Marino, CA during the off-season...while attending Edgewood High School in West Covina, CA he lettered in baseball, football, basketball...was named MVP in all three sports in his senior year...was graudated in 1963...Jay's wife is a former actress...credits the father of former Dodger Jim Lefebrve, Benny Lefebrve, and former Phillies batting coach, Billy DeMars, as being instrumental in his improvement as a hitter...was tutored by Jimmy Piersall in outfield play early in his career...hobbies include golf, hunting, fishing and singing.

CARMELO MARTINEZ (12) IF

MARTINEZ, CARMELO—Born 7-28-60, Dorado, Puerto Rico, turns 23, July 28. Bats-R; Throws-R; Ht. 6-1; Wt. 190. Single. How obtained: Signed originally by the Cubs and scout Pedrin Zorilla on December 9, 1978. Major League service: None.

1982 SEASON: Carmelo turned in his second consecutive standout year at Midland (AA) in the Texas League. Martinez hit .334 to lead the club and ranked fourth in the league...hit career-high 27 homers, second in the league, while driving in 93 runs, another personal high...was second on the club in runs scored (100) and in hits (156)...besides leading the team in average and homers he also paced the club in games played (131) doubles (35) and walks (85).

IN THE MINORS: The first baseman also spent the 1981 season at Midland...he batted .296 with 21 homers (second to Mel Hall's 24) and had 84 RBI (tied for second on the club with Jack Upton, Hall led with 95)...he ranked third on the team with 22 doubles and 116 hits...after a slow start with the Sarasota Cubs of the Gulf Coast League (Rookie) in 1979, Carmelo improved his batting average 54 points the next season at Quad City of the Midwest League (A)...he hit .257 with 12 homers and 64 RBI at Quad City and was second in the league with 14 game-winning hits...played ball this past winter at Bayamon, PR.

CLUB EVALUATION: Says Gordon Goldsberry: "Carmelo played first base all season long at Midland in 1982, one of the reasons he did so well...last year improved offensively and also became an adequate first baseman...we feel he has the potential to be a good-fielding first basemen with home run power...has the potential to drive in a lot of runs at Wrigley Field in the future, probably in 1984 or 1985...he appears to be one year away from the big club."

PERSONAL/MISC: Carmelo is single and resides in Dorado, Puerto Rico during the off-season...he graduated from Jose S. Alegria High School in Dorado in 1978...he played baseball and volleyball at Alegria...attends Central College of Bayamon, PR during the off-season.

PAUL MOSKAU (37) RHP

MOSKAU, PAUL RICHARD—Born 12-20-53, St. Joseph, MO, turns 30, December 20. Bats-R; Throws-R; Ht. 6-2; Wt. 205. Wife's name: Anna. Children: Ryan and Rachel. How obtained: Became a Cub on January 14, 1983 when he signed as a free agent. Major League service: 5 years, 65 days.

1982 SEASON: Paul began the spring training portion of the season with the Baltimore Orioles after he was acquired for infielder Wayne Krenchicki on February 10...was later released by the Orioles and signed as free agent by the Pittsburgh Pirates on April 6...his lone victory came on June 21 at Pittsburgh when he pitched five innings allowing one earned run against the Cubs in a 4-3 decision...five days later he reinjured his shoulder and was placed on the disabled list on June 26...was reactivated on August 12 and was sent to Portland (AAA) of the Pacific Coast League for a 20-day rehabilitation period...was reactivated on September 1...his only appearance came on September 25 when he pitched one inning of relief at Montreal.

MAJOR LEAGUES: Primarily a starter for a majority of his career, Paul was shifted to the bullpen by the Cincinnati Reds in 1981 following shoulder surgery the previous winter...his only start resulted in a no-decision on August 30 against the Mets...from April 22 to May 22 he did not allow a run during seven appearances totalling 17.1 innings. He allowed only 10 hits in that period and was 1-0 with two saves...did not pitch after September 8...in 1980, he was used both in relief and as a starter...was 4-1 in relief with two saves and a 2.00 ERA...was 9-5 with a 3.46 as of August 28...on August 28 he experienced the same shoulder problems he had encountered several years earlier...pitched only 15 innings the rest of the season...underwent surgery in which a piece of his collarbone was removed to alleviate the pain in his right shoulder...in 1979, replaced an injured Tom Seaver in Reds' rotation in late April...was 4-0 before losing consecutive 2-1 decisions...won only one more game that season before being farmed out to Indianapolis in August...returned to Cincinnati in September...in 1978, experienced pitching problems in spring training and began the season in Indianapolis (AAA) of the American Association...had shoulder trouble that season...finished with three victories and no defeats in four September starts...had 15 no decisions as a starter with Reds, but club won a dozen of those games...first played in the major leagues in 1977 after coming to camp as a non-roster player...was 7-1 at Indianapolis before his recall and finished with a 6-6 record along with two complete game shutout victories over the Phillies and Padres...considered a good hitting pitcher...has a .169 lifetime average (25-for-148) with two homers (June 20, 1977 vs. Phillies Randy Lerch and July 29, 1978 vs. Philadelphia's Jim Lonborg)...led Reds pitchers with 11 RBI in 1978 and had four RBI against the Giants on September 17, 1978.

IN THE MINORS: Had an outstanding minor league record of 30-9 in 2 1/2 seasons with the Reds organization...after being sent back to Indianapolis in 1979 he combined with three other pitchers (Davis May, Sheldon Burnside and Angel Torres) to throw a no-hitter...Paul started and pitched the first four innings of the only four-pitcher no-hitter in American Association history...in 1975 he led the Northwest League (A) in wins (10), ERA (1.50), strikeouts (92 in 84 innings) and winning percentage (.909) while pitching for Eugene...on August 15, 1975 he fanned 17 hitters in a game against Walla Walla (Padres), winning 7-0...his opponent was Mike Lentz, the first player picked in the June draft that year. Lentz fanned 16 hitters...in 1976, he paced the Eastern League (AA) in ERA (1.55) and shutouts (6) while pitching for Three Rivers...had minor league batting average of .289 with five homers and 28 RBI.

PERSONAL/MISC: Paul is married to the former Anna Zoback. The couple resides in Tucson, AZ during the off-season...he was graduated from Rincon High in Tucson in 1971...was an all-city selection twice and all-state his senior year...pitched a no-hitter in the Arizona state semi-final playoffs in 1971...played varsity baseball at Arizona State for two years (1972-73) and hit .369 and .330 as a first baseman helping ASU reach the College World Series both years...transfered to Azusa (CA) Pacific College where he pitched and played the outfield for two more years...in his final year he was 10-5 with a 2.08 ERA and 131 strikeouts in 117 innings. He also batted .411 with 19 homers and 60 RBI in 50 games...was named to the NAIA first team All-America squad in 1975...set school records for strikeouts as a pitcher and homers, RBI, runs and total bases as a hitter...was selected by the Reds on the third round of the June 1975 free agent draft...hobbies include hunting, fishing, golf and tennis.

NO-HITTER DAY

On August 19, 1965, Jim Maloney of the Cincinnati Reds threw a 10-inning no-hitter against the Cubs in Wrigley Field. The Reds won the game 1-0 on a home run by Leo Cardenas. Four years later, August 19, 1969, Cubs lefty Ken Holtzman threw the first of his two no-hitters when he beat the Atlanta Braves 3-0 at Wrigley Field. All three runs came from a first-inning Ron Santo home run.

MIKE PROLY (36) RHP

PROLY, MICHAEL JAMES—Born 12-15-50 in Jamaica, N.Y., turns 33, December 15. Bats-R; Throws-R; Ht. 5-11; Wt. 185. Wife's name: Kimberly. Children: Jason, Shane. How obtained: Purchased by the Cubs on June 3 from the Iowa Cubs (AAA) of the American Association. Major League service: 4 years, 90 days.

1982 SEASON: Mike was released by the Philadelphia Phillies at the end of spring training. After contemplating retirement, he signed with the Iowa Cubs (AAA) on April 9...upon his recall to the Cubs on June 3 he was used almost entirely in middle-inning relief...became the Cubs top long reliever...did not allow a run in his first five appearences totalling 7.2 innings...from August 14-22 he made five appearances, pitching 13.1 innings without allowing a run...from August 12-15 he made four appearances in a five-game series at New York and came away with a 3-1 record...from June 3 through August 26 he made 28 appearances...pitched 53.2 innings in that stretch, allowing just 11 earned runs for a 1.84 ERA...his presence helped the Cubs solidify their bullpen, one of the league's best and deepest in the second half of the season...held the opposition scoreless in 30 of 43 appearances...made one start against the Mets in New York on September 29, pitching 6.1 innings and allowing one earned run to post his fifth victory of the season...ERA of 2.30 was lowest in his major league career.

MAJOR LEAGUES: In 1981, Mike was used in middle inning relief by Phillies manager Dallas Green...Proly had a 2-1 record and a 3.86 ERA...one of his best major league seasons was 1980 despite his won-loss record...he appeared in 62 games, a personal high, for the Chicago White Sox and registered eight saves in 147 innings...in 1979, he recorded seven saves in one month, the same year he missed nearly two months with an elbow strain...split the 1978 season between Iowa (AAA) of the American Association and the White Sox...missed part of that season with a broken thumb...was signed by the White Sox after being selected in the November, 1977 re-entry draft, formerly St. Louis Cardinals property...appeared in 14 games and posted a 1-0 record for the Cards in 1976...was drafted by the Minnesota Twins in 1976 and spent a year in their organization before being drafted by the White Sox...ironically, was traded by White Sox to Phillies for current Cub teammate Jay Loviglio on April 1, 1981.

IN THE MINORS: Spent parts of five seasons in the minor leagues...his best season was in 1973 when he posted a 14-5 record with St. Petersburg (A) of the Florida State League...led the league with a 1.76 ERA...appeared in 37 games, 20 as a starter and hurled 10 complete games...at Tulsa (AAA) of the American Association, Mike played for the late Ken Boyer...pitched 55 games that season with a 3.87 ERA and 17 saves...had a 6-4 record with 11 saves and 2.69 ERA the next season when the Cardinals recalled him...had a 2-1 record with a 5.01 ERA at Iowa (AAA) last season before the Cubs recalled him.

PERSONAL/MISC: Mike is married to the former Kimberly Tschantz and they reside in Clearwater, FL during the off-season...he is a 1973 graduate of St. John's University in New York with a B.S. in marketing...lettered two seasons at St. John's on the baseball team...selected as team's MVP in junior season...played both baseball and football at Chaminade High School in Mineola, NY...captained the baseball team and earned two varsity letters...works in real estate during the off-season...hobbies include golf, fishing and swimming.

RYNE SANDBERG (23) IF

SANDBERG, RYNE DEE—Born 9-18-59, Spokane, WA., turns 24, September 18. Bats-R; Throws-R; Ht. 6-2; Wt. 180. Wife's name: Cindy. Children: Lindsey Rae. How obtained: Became a Cub on January 27, 1982 when he was traded by the Phillies along with shortstop Larry Bowa for shortstop Ivan DeJesus. Major League service: 1 year, 34 days.

1982 SEASON: Ryne enjoyed one of the finest rookie seasons of any Cub in the last 15 years...selected Chicago Rookie of the Year by Chicago Baseball Writers Association of America...after a 1-for-32 start, he finished with a .271 average, reaching a season high on August 12 (.276)...was second on the team with 33 doubles and 32 stolen bases...led team with 103 runs scored, becoming first Cub since 1978 to score more than 100 runs (DeJesus, 104)...103 runs scored also established a team record for runs scored by a rookie, breaking the 50-year mark set by Hall of Famer Billy Herman in 1932...Ryne's 32 stolen bases also broke the team mark for steals by a third baseman. Harry Steinfeldt's record of 29 had stood since 1906...from May 7 to September 1, Ryne played in 105 games and failed to hit safely in two straight games only twice during that stretch...during a 43-game stretch dating from July 16 to September 1, Ryne batted .298 and scored 33 runs...had a 10-game hitting streak during that period , his longest hit streak of the season...Defensively he was outstanding...began season as a third baseman even though he had only played a handful of games previously at third...the former shortstop committed 11 errors at the hot corner of 140 games to rank among the league leaders at his position...moved to second base on September 3, playing there most of the month...became first Cub to steal home since Rodney Scott (June 6, 1978) when he accomplished feat against the Braves and pitcher Bob Walk on July 17...connected for two homers in one game against Pittsburgh on April 23. Both homers came off Eddie Solomon...the homers were his first two in the major leagues...was the best Cub at advancing runners in scoring position with less than two outs, being successful on 43 of 76 opportunities...was also the best at advancing runners on first with one or less outs (33-for-74)...had one stretch when he stole 15 bases in 17 attempts.

IN THE MINORS: During the 1981 season, Ryne played at Oklahoma City (AAA) in the Phillies' organization...led team in games (133), at-bats (519) and hits (152)...played 117 games at shortstop and had a fielding percentage of .972, second in the American Association...stole 32 bases in 42 tries...at the conclusion of the minor league season he was recalled by the Phillies and appeared in 13 games, hitting .167...in 1980, he had an outstanding season at Reading (AA) of the Eastern League batting .310 and leading the league's shortstops in assists (386), fielding average (.964) and double plays (81) earning a place on the Eastern League All-Star team...in 1978, he led the Western Carolinas League (A) in double plays (80)...in 1978, he led the Pioneer League (Rookie) in double plays (38) while playing for Helena...was drafted by the Phillies on the 21st round of the June 8, 1978 free agent draft.

PERSONAL/MISC: Ryne is married to the former Cindy White and they reside in Tempe, AZ. during the off-season...Cindy gave birth to the couple's first child, Lindsey Rae, last fall...Ryne attended North Central High School in Spokane and was graduated in 1978...hobbies include hunting, fishing, hiking, playing tennis and listening to music...while at North Central he earned All-City honors in basketball and baseball and was a first team All-State selection in football...Ryne signed a national letter of intent at Washington State University just four days before signing a pro baseball contract.

How obtained: Became a Cub on January 26, 1983 when he was acquired with pitcher Warren Brusstar from the Chicago White Sox for pitchers Dick Tidrow and Randy Martz and infielders Pat Tabler and Scott Fletcher. Major League service: 4 years, 18 days.

1982 SEASON: The talented hard-throwing lefty turned in a 6-9 performance last season with the White Sox...he opened the season with a 5-4 victory over Boston in Fenway Park on April 14...posted a 1-2 record in April with a 3.81 ERA...had his best month in May when he was 3-2 with a 3.76 ERA...on April 25 he pitched very well despite losing a 2-1 decision to Baltimore...he fanned six and allowed only three hits...he lost his last three decisions of the season and five of the last seven...made his last start of the season on August 18th against Texas...made only two more appearances the remainder of the season.

MAJOR LEAGUES: Still considered to be one of the potentially outstanding young lefties in baseball...thus far, his lack of consistency has been his major drawback...in 1981 he finished with an 8-7 record but at times was brilliant...early in the second half he went 10 straight appearances (eight starts, two in relief) without allowing more than three runs in an appearance covering 61.2 innings...allowed five homers the first half of the season and only two in the second half...permitted only one homer from May 24 to September 23 covering 69.1 innings...equalled his one-game strikeout high by fanning seven Tigers on April 24 and seven Blue Jays on May 18...before play was interrupted he was among the American League ERA leaders with a 2.73 mark and a 5-3 record in 69.1 innings...in 1980 he was second on the staff in innings pitched (199.2) and third in wins (9), starts (30), complete games (7) and strikeouts (89)...also claimed the staff one-season record for consecutive shutout innings with 27 from July 1-13...on July 13, Steve and Rudy May of the New York Yankees were locked-up in a double no-hitter for seven innings...Steve eventually lost the game 3-1...won a career-high 11 games in 1979 after being recalled from Iowa (AAA) of the American Association on May 5...was also in the major leagues briefly in 1978, posting a 3-0 record...has one of the best moves to first base in baseball.

IN THE MINORS: Pitched in the minor leagues for two-plus seasons before being recalled by the White Sox in 1978...his best season was at Knoxville (AA) of the Southern League when he was 8-3 with a 1.65 ERA...he won eight of his 12 starts that season...he also pitched well at Iowa in 1979 when he opened the season at the Triple-A level and registered a 3-1 record.

PERSONAL/MISC: Steve is married to the former Sandra Belder...the couple resides in Crete, IL during the off-season...although he was born in Detroit he grew up in south suburban South Holland, IL while his father, former major league pitcher Paul (Dizzy) Trout, worked in the White Sox office. Paul pitched for the Detroit Tigers in the 1945 World Series against the Cubs...graduated from Thornwood High School in South Holland...it was his high school baseball teammates who nicknamed him "Rainbow."...was selected by the White Sox' organization in first round of the June, 1976 free agent draft...he was the eighth player selected overall.

STOLEN BASES

The 1982 Cubs stole 132 bases, the most by Cubs team in 58 years. Last year's team was only the third Cubs team since the 1924 team swiped 137 bases to steal more than 100 bases. The 1978 squad stole 110 and the 1929 team pilfered 103. Rookie Ryne Sandberg set a team record for stolen bases by a third baseman with 32 steals. Ryne broke Harry Steinfeldt's record of 29 set in 1906. Bump Wills led the club with 35. Here is a breakdown on last year's stolen base total:

Bump Wills 35
Ryne Sandberg 32
Leon Durham 28
Bill Buckner 15
Larry Bowa 8
Steve Henderson 6
Gary Woods 3
Scott Fletcher 1
Junior Kennedy 1
Bobby Molinaro 1

SAVE RULE

Saves shall be awarded to relief pitchers under the following criteria:

Rule (10:20) tells the official scorer to credit a pitcher with a save when he meets all three of the following conditions: (1) He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club; and (2) He is not the winning pitcher; and (3) He qualifies under the following conditions: (a) He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning; or (b) He enters the game with the potential tying run either on base, or at bat, or on deck, (that is, the potential tying run is either already on base or is one of the first two batsman he faces); or (c) He pitches effectively for at least three innings.

CUBS HALL OF FAME

The Chicago Cubs organization last season instituted the formation of the Chicago Cubs Hall of Fame. The Cubs organization selected 17 former Cubs who had previously been inducted into the Baseball Hall of Fame in Cooperstown, NY. Also inducted by the Cubs organization were three members of the Wrigley Family. The fans voted and selected an additional dozen former Cubs bringing the first-year induction total to 32. The former greats were inducted in Old-Timers Day ceremonies preceeding the Cubs-Padres game of August 21. Each year fans will select a limited number of former players to be inducted. Plaques containing a likeness of the inductee detailing his career accomplishments will be mounted along the Wrigley Field concourse. Here is a list of first-year members of the Chicago Cubs Hall of Fame:

*Grover Cleveland Alexander
*Adrian C. (Cap) Anson

GENERAL RULES INFORMATION

Player Limits: Clubs must cut active roster to a maximum of 25 players on opening day...From Sept. 1 to opening day, clubs may carry up to 40 players.

Trades within the National League: From midnight the last day of the season to midnight June 15, players contracts may be traded or sold without getting waivers...From June 15 to the end of the season, league waivers are necessary.

Waivers: Players contracts may be available for purchase by other clubs in reverse order of the League standings at the time waivers expire, if more than 30 days after opening day. Otherwise, in reverse order of the standing at the close of the previous season.

Inter-League Trades: From midnight on the fifth day after the completion of the World Series to midnight of the day preceding the last day of the Winter Meetings and from February 15 to midnight, March 15, player contracts may be traded or sold between clubs of the National and American League without waivers...From midnight of the final day of the Winter Meetings each December, to midnight, June 15, and from the last day of the season through the fourth day after the completion of the World Series, waivers are necessary in the assignor's league...From midnight, June 15, to the last day of the season, waivers from all major league clubs are necessary.

Regulation Game: A regulation game consists of nine innings unless extended because of a tie score or shortened because (1) the home team needs none of its half of the ninth or only part of it; or (2) because the umpire-in-chief calls the game after five completed innings. A regulation game may be less than five innings if the home team is ahead after the first of the fifth, or takes the lead or ties the score while at bat in the fifth.

Tie Games: A regulation game that is called by the umpire-in-chief when both teams have the same number of runs is a tie game. Individual player performances are official and are entered in the records, but the game does not count in the League standings and may be rescheduled at a later date.

Suspended Game: A game becomes a suspended game if it is terminated for any of the following reasons: (1) a curfew imposed by law; (2) a time limit permissible under the league rules; (3) light failure or malfunction of a mechanical field device under control of the home club (including automatic tarpaulin or water removal equipment); or (4) darkness because of any law, the lights may not be turned on. No game called because of a curfew or a time limit shall be a suspended game unless it has progressed far enough to have been a regulation game (see above). A game called under either provision (3) or (4) shall be a suspended game at any time after it starts. Note: weather and similar conditions shall take precedence in determining whether a called game shall be a suspended game. A game can only be considered a suspended game if stopped for any of the four reasons specified. Any legal game called due to weather with the score tied is a "tie game" and must be replayed in its entirety.

ROSTER LIMITATIONS

Rosters are limited to 25 players from opening day through August 31 and 40 players from September 1 through conclusion of season. Players in military service do not count against the under control list while on active duty. Upon separation from the service, a player will be reinstated to his club's normal player limits after he has completed a 15-day trial period or has participated in a championship game, whichever comes first.

MESA, AZ—SPRING HOME OF THE CUBS

The Cubs will return to Mesa's HoHoKam Park for a fifth consecutive spring training session in 1983, coming off a spring where they attracted overflow crowds. In 12 games in 1982 the Cubs drew 55,562 fans an average of 4,630, almost capacity.

Because of the enthusiasm shown, the park's capacity has been increased in 1983 from 5,700 to 6,488. Last spring, the Cubs played to standing room only crowds six times, including two games which attracted more than 6,000. The 1982 high was 6,072 against California on March 30.

That total attendance figure against the Angels broke the old mark of 6,013, also set in 1982 on March 21 against San Francisco. The paid figure of 5,835 against the Angels also broke the old mark in that department—5,561 set versus the Giants on March 21, 1982.

The Cubs returned to Mesa in 1979, re-establishing their spring training headquarters in that city after a 14-year hiatus. Previously, the Cubs had trained at Rendezvous Park but moved to HoHoKam Park in '79, which is located on North Center Street, just north of Brown Road.

HoHoKam Park opened on March 11, 1977 and was previously the spring home of the Oakland A's. The Cubs also have access to three diamonds at nearby Fitch Park. Those diamonds are utilized for the early workouts by Cubs players and by the Cubs minor league teams once the Cubs begin the exhibition season at HoHoKam Park.

A group of Mesa businessmen, the HoHoKams, provide assistance to the Cubs in the operating of the park. The group and the park both take their name from an Indian tribe that inhabited the region many years ago. The HoHoKam Indians were the first to bring water to the desert area of Mesa, accomplishing this by using a system of canals which can still be traced today.

Mesa is only the fourth training site used by the Cubs covering a period of more than 50 years. They trained for 26 years (1921-1951, excluding the World War II years) at Catalina Island, off the coast of southern California. In 1952, the Cubs moved their spring headquarters to Mesa, training there until 1966 when they moved back to California and Long Beach for one season. Beginning in 1967 the Cubs trained in Scottsdale, Arizona until the spring of 1979 when they returned to Mesa.

Mesa is located just southeast of Scottsdale and Phoenix. It has a population of more than 150,000.

DID YOU KNOW...?

Cubs pitcher Jim Lavender defeated the New York Giants' Rube Marquard to end the great Giant hurler's 19-game winning streak. A record that still stands.

On September 29, 1935, Augie Galan played his 154th game of the season for the Cubs without hitting into a double play to set a current major league record.

RADIO ANNOUNCERS FOR 1983

LOU BOUDREAU

Lou Boudreau and baseball just seem to go together. Lou Boudreau and the Chicago Cubs...well, they've been together for a long time as well. This season will mark the 27th year in the Cubs broadcasting booth for the Hall of Famer (induction 1970), one of the most celebrated shortstops in baseball history. This season Lou will serve as color commentator on WGN radio with play-by-play man Milo Hamilton.

The former Cleveland Indians great first joined the Cubs broadcasting team as color sidekick for the late Jack Quinlan in 1957. Quinlan was the Cubs play-by-play announcer on radio at the time. This assignment came on the heels of a two-year managerial stint with the Kansas City Athletics (1955-56). Since 1957, with the exception of a brief managerial tour with the Cubs in 1960, Boudreau has been a fixture in the WGN booth.

Lou, or "Good Kid" as he is affectionately called, joined the Cleveland Indians in 1939. Four seasons later, at the age of 24, he took over as the Indians manager. His popularity reached national proportions in 1948 when he took the Indians to the World Championship as player-manager. Lou was the American League's Most Valuable Player that season, batting .355 with 18 home runs, 106 RBI and 116 runs scored. Lou managed the Indians until the 1951 season and his string of nine consecutive years as Cleveland's pilot stands as a club record. He retired after playing four games for the Boston Red Sox in 1952 with a lifetime batting average of .295.

Lou, who was born in Harvey, IL on July 17, 1917, was also an outstanding high school basketball player at Thornton Township in Harvey, gaining all-state honors in that sport. Later, in 1938-39 he played professional ball for Ceisars All-Americans in Hammond, IN.

"Good Kid" is also remembered as being the innovator of the famed Ted Williams shift.

HARRY CARAY

One of baseball's best known broadcasters, Harry Caray will be beginning his second season as the Cubs play-by-play broadcaster for WGN television. He will be teamed with Steve Stone, the newest addition to the Cubs broadcasting team.

Along with his TV commentary, Harry will also do the middle three innings of play-by-play on WGN radio.

Caray, who came over to Wrigley Field from the White Sox after an 11-year stint on the South Side, has been broadcasting baseball for 40 years and is proud "that I've never missed a day of work, not even an inning." He was particularly pleased with his maiden season with the Cubs.

"It's a high feeling being a part of all this," Caray noted. "You feel like you're on the ground floor of something that will grow quickly and prosper."

Caray spent 25 years as the St. Louis Cardinals play-by-play man, then joined the Oakland A's in 1970 for one season before coming to the White Sox in 1971. While in St. Louis, he was The Sporting News' Announcer of the Year on six occasions and has been awarded Broadcaster of the Year honors countless times in Illinois and Missouri.

Harry began his apprenticeship in radio sports before World War II in Joliet, IL and later moved to Kalamazoo, MI before joining KMOX radio in St. Louis. He has broadcast boxing, football, basketball and hockey in addition to baseball.

A native of St. Louis, born there on March 1, 1920, Harry's singing of "Take Me Out To The Ballgame" has become a trademark in Chicago. He has been singing that tune around town since 1975.

A PAIR OF FIRSTS

On April 20, 1916, the Cubs played their first game in Wrigley Field and defeated the Cincinnati Reds 7-6 in 11 innings.

Thirty years later to the day, the first Cubs game was telecast over WBKD with Joe Wilson at the microphone. Unfortunately for the Cubs, Harry Breechen hurled a six-hitter and the St. Louis Cardinals blanked the Cubs 2-0.

MILO HAMILTON

Milo will be entering his seventh season of play-by-play broadcasting for the Cubs and his fourth straight season with the franchise. He began his professional baseball broadcasting career with the Cubs in 1955, doing play-by-play for WIND radio.

Hamilton, born September 2, 1927, will handle the play-by- play assignment for WGN radio during the first three and final innings of Cubs games this season. He will work the middle three innings of play-by-play on WGN television.

"I like the idea of doing more play-by-play," said Hamilton, "because I'm a play-by-play man."

Prior to coming to the Cubs in 1980, Milo covered the Pittsburgh Pirates for four seasons, including their championship year in 1979. He has also done play-by-play broadcasting for the Atlanta Braves (1966-75) and the Chicago White Sox (1961-65). His first tour as play-by-play man with the Cubs was from 1955 through 1957.

In the winter, Milo is a very busy man for WGN. He just completed his third season of calling the shots of Chicago Bulls games on television in addition to a heavy schedule of Chicago area college basketball contests. Milo began his broadcasting career on the Armed Forces Radio Network in 1945 and started his professional career in 1950 after his graduation from the University of Iowa.

VINCE LLOYD

The popular Vince Lloyd, the Cubs radio play-by-play man since 1965, will embark on new territory in addition to providing color commentary in the WGN radio booth with Lou Boudreau and Milo Hamilton. Last November, Vince and long-time WGN sports editor Jack Rosenberg were named to head Tribune Company's new marketing entity, the Tribune Radio Syndication. Lloyd and Rosenberg will both be general managers in the new broadcasting division whose principal task will be to dramatically expand the Cubs radio network which last season served 26 midwestern stations.

Along with providing his inside and commentary on the radio this season, Vince will host the pre-game Lead-off Man show on WGN television and the post-game highlights show on WGN radio.

"I think this will be a heck of an opportunity for me," said Lloyd after his new appointment. "You rarely have the opportunity to do this kind of thinking."

Lloyd, born June 1, 1917, has been honored on numerous occasions as one of the country's top sports broadcasters. His background also includes years of calling Big Ten football games on WGN radio. One of the highlights of Vince's career came in 1961 when he became the first sports announcer to interview a United States President. Vince had President John F. Kennedy on WGN's Lead-off Man show prior to the White Sox opener in Washington against the Senators.

STEVE STONE

The newest member of the Cub's broadcasting family is former Cubs pitcher and 1980 CY Young Award winner Steve Stone, who retired from baseball last June because of arm problems. Steve, who pitched for the Cubs from 1974-76, had his greatest season three years ago for the Baltimore Orioles when he posted a 25-7 record and 3.23 ERA.

In his three seasons with the Cubs, he had records of 8-6, 12-8 and 3-6 before being traded to the White Sox. Steve was 27-24 in two seasons with the Sox before moving to Baltimore in 1979. Stone originally signed with the San Francisco Giants following the January free agent draft in 1969 and played for the Giants in parts of 1971 and 1972. He pitched for the White Sox in 1972.

Steve will team with Harry Caray in the WGN television booth this season, handling the color commentary. Stone, though, is no stranger to television broadcasting, having spent part of last summer doing color analysis for ABC following his retirement. He drew excellent reviews from national TV critics for his performances.

Stone, born in Cleveland on July 14, 1947, opened a restaurant in Scottsdale, AZ named "Steven" in January of 1981. The 1970 graduate of Kent State is a gourmet cook and wine connoisseur, has written poetry and has been published in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Chicago papers as well as National Jewish Monthly.

SCORING RULE—PINCH HITTERS

A player shall be considered a pinch hitter only if he enters the game as a substitute batter and then only on his first time at bat which must be before he becomes a fielder. (If the team bats around and a pinch hitter comes up a second time in the inning in which he first appeared, he will not be considered a pinch hitter during that second time up.)

A substitute hitter for a designated hitter is both a pinch hitter and a designated hitter on his first time at bat. On subsequent trips to the plate he is a designated hitter only.
